

Lesser Prairie Chicken: Five-State Conservation Plan

The Consultant Team

Ecosystem Management Research Institute (EMRI) – EMRI is a non-profit organization that specializes in describing, mapping and restoring native ecosystem diversity and conducting ecological assessments to support appropriate human land uses and landscape-level biodiversity conservation efforts.

Dr. Jon Haufler, EMRI's Executive Director, is the project manager and lead scientist for this effort. Dr. Haufler holds a B.S. in Wildlife Management from the University of New Hampshire, an M.S. in Wildlife Management from Virginia Tech, and a Ph.D. in Wildlife Biology from Colorado State University. He has prepared or assisted with numerous wildlife plans, including a grassland conservation plan for prairie grouse.

Learn more about EMRI at the website, www.emri.org

Jan Caulfield Consulting will assist EMRI with the public involvement process. www.jancaulfield.com

For More Information

For more information, please contact:

Jan Caulfield

Public Involvement Coordinator

janc@gci.net

907-523-4610